Art. 1 Cooperation

Technische Hochschule Wildau (TH Wildau) and Sree Narayana College for Women, Kerala, India–691001 recognize the mutual benefits of scientific exchange and cooperation. The parties acknowledge that the mutually shared principle of academic freedom is essential to the academic mission and cooperation projects envisaged by the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU). The partners therefore assure that they follow the principles of academic freedom. In addition to this, both sides affirm that the cooperation is based as a binding principle on openness and reciprocity.

The partners, as educational institutions, as employers and as future contracting parties, value equality of opportunity, human dignity and racial/ethnic diversity. Accordingly, the partners will not engage in discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, ancestry, colour, disability, familial status, marital status, national origin, race, religion or sex.

Art. 2 Scope of cooperation

Generally speaking and within the limits of financial means of each institution, the cooperation will take the following form:

- Exchange of information in the field of teaching, teaching practice and research;
- Development of scientific research programmes in fields of common interests.
- Development of joint curriculum and methodologies in teaching and research;
- Organising joint conference, methodology workshop, professional development programmes, training programmes etc.;
- Promotion of exchanges of teachers, researchers, and other members of staff to participate in different teaching, research and professional training activities;
- Invitation of teachers and researchers to participate in seminars, conferences, courses and meetings on research themes of common interest;
- Promotion of exchange programmes for students for a study, training or research period (the modalities will be defined in a specific student exchange agreement);
- Co-direction or co-supervision of doctoral theses;
- Joint scientific publications on common interest fields;
- Any other project of common interest suggested by either of the two parties.

Nothing in this Memorandum is intended to or shall be deemed to establish an exclusive relationship between the parties or to restrict any activities that either party would otherwise be able to undertake. Nothing in this Memorandum is intended to or shall be deemed to establish any partnership or joint venture between the parties or constitute any party the agent of the other party, or authorize any party to make or enter into any commitments for or on behalf of the other party.

Art. 3 Reference documents

This MoU will be considered as the reference document for any other MoUs between the institutions. Complementary MoUs concerning any other programme will give information concerning specific programmes and will be agreed upon and applied by the official representatives of the partner institutions. The field of activities covered by this MoU will be determined by the means available in each institution and by the funding obtained.

Art. 4 Validity

The present MoU takes effect as from the date of signature and remains valid for a period of 3 years. If one party plans to withdraw from the MoU, it must give notice in writing 6 months in advance, on the understanding that any ongoing actions should be carried through to a successful conclusion.

Art. 5 Force Majeure

The terms and conditions of this MoU shall not be disclosed to any third parties without the prior written consent of both Parties.
